Comments and recommendations for improvement:

Including areas in which you have performed well, areas in which there is the potential for improvement and general feedback from the markers.

Excellent job! Some minor missing or inaccurate answers here and there in P3. An impressive blogpost in P4 that goes above and beyond in terms of ideas, analysis, visualisations, and discussion. Very effective use of different visualisation plots. The narrative is rich and intriguing and the discussion is thoughtful. The use of multiple data sets is effectively utilised. The last bit about connecting measures with best/worst days needs more work (it is an unfair comparison as you allude) and it is hard to learn much from it. Great to see the use of version control and HackMD.
